

edible Toronto and edible Ottawa magazines celebrate local food and drink culture, season by season, inspiring readers to support and celebrate the growers, producers, chefs, vintners and local food advocates in our community. Because we believe knowing where our food comes from is a powerful thing.

edible is about making connections between our editorial and readers, producers, restaurants and consumers with the aim of being a strong and loyal local food community.

As part of the Farmers' Markets of Ontario partnership we are happy to provide a 15% discount off our print and digital rate cards to member vendors and markets.

To receive more information regarding our print + digital advertising packages, please email Laurie Kizik - laurie@edibleottawa.co or laurie@edibletoronto.com

